Baking Powder Combine Fights the Law

The combination known as "The Associated Baking Powder Manufacturers" is opposing the enforcement of a law of Missouri which is designed to protect people from certain undesirable substances in food. Among the articles of food whose manufacture and sale are prohibited, are all those containing alum, a substance employed in making the cheaper grades of baking powder.

Such an organized opposition to the Pure Food law of the state will not meet the approval of housekeepers. The health of our families is the most important of all considerations. Alum baking powder have been condemned by law elsewhere and by our own and other high authorities for years, and the best interests of the people are in the enforcement of the law, and not with the Baking Powder Combine which has heretofore been allowed to sell its alum compounds freely in this community.

The people should not be misled in this matter. The sale of alum baking powder is forbidden under penalty of a heavy fine by law of the state. Grocers should take warning and inform themselves of the character of the goods they sell, as housekeepers are bound to be protected.

Meeting of Synod.

The Synod of the Cumberland Presbyterian church of Missouri is in session in Slater this week and the town is full of Presbyterians, engaged in the work for the Master. The Woman's State Missionary Society is also holding sessions. Fully one hundred and twenty-five delegates are present, and the meetings are proving of much interest.

The opening sermon was preached Tuesday evening by the moderator, Rev. J. W. McKey, who is one of the most eloquent and consecrated speakers in the state. Wednesday morning was mainly a business session, while several able addresses were made in the afternoon. The Woman's Missionary Society filled Wednesday evening, and right ably and interestingly did they do it. The greater part of today will be taken up with business, reports of committees, etc.

The meeting closes tomorrow afternoon. Slater extended her usual welcome to the visiting delegates, and we feel sure our people have been benefited by their stay among us, and trust that their visit has been to them a pleasure as well as profit. —Slater Index.

Presbyterian Synod Notes.

The Presbyterian Synod's Home Mission committee of Missouri met at the Presbyterian church in this city Monday evening at 7 o'clock and heard the report of the treasurer, W. W. Trig, of this city. His report shows the financial condition of the Synod to be better than ever before, there being $2,000 surplus on hand, with all bills paid.

Rev. A. A. Wallace, of Mexico, Mo., moderator at present, delivered the opening address of the Synod Tuesday evening before a crowded house, there being present 100 ministers of the churches from over the state and a representative congregation of this city.

After the sermon the roll was called, resulting in a response of aye from pastors and delegates, showing a full attendance. Dr. O. W. Gauss, formerly of this city, but now of Kansas City, was elected moderator for the ensuing year Tuesday night.

Dr. J. P. Cannon, pastor of the St. Louis Grand Avenue church, and moderator of the general assembly, preached an eloquent and instructive sermon at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Dr. John Henry McCracken, president of Westminster College at Fulton, the youngest college professor of the state, is attending the Synod this week. —Bloomville Republican.

Judge Cooney in Polk Co.

A fair crowd of Democrats were in Bedford Saturday to hear the candidates, Hon. A. M. Dockery, D. A. Hall and James Cooney, speak. Hall and Dockery are rival candidates for the nomination for Governor in 1890, and notwithstanding Dockery has subscribed for all the Democratic papers in the state, his opponent still thinks there is a chance for a "poor man" to get the nomination. Polk county is likely to be for Hall. —Polk Free Press.

LOOKS SUSPICIOUS.

A Stranger at Knoboster With Gold Badly Battered.

The officers of the Bank of Houston, in which was robbed of $100 a week ago last Saturday night, believe they at last have a clew to one of the robbers.

Tuesday a stranger, of whom a good description was obtained, dropped into Knoboster, and before he had taken his departure he spent several gold pieces that were badly battered, just like those that were in the Houston bank are supposed to have been after the explosion took place.

Strange to say, the bank robbery was not thought of until after the stranger had left Knoboster, but as stated, a good description was obtained and his early capture is anticipated. —Warrensburg Standard Herald.

Robbed the Grave

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitter; and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued the use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 30cts., guaranteed at P. H. Franklin's Drug Store.

Charged With Burglary.

George Langford colored was arrested here Wednesday night charged with burglary, by City Marshall Wadde. Officers Johnson and Hollands, of Slater, took him to Slater yesterday. He is charged with having broken into the house of Ted Hipp near Slater, September 26, and stealing various articles of clothing. The coat and pants he wore were identified as stolen property. Langford was released from the penitentiary last spring, after serving two years for a similar offense. —Miami News.
